

Appendix A: Role Profiles

Collation Order: The Role Profiles are grouped to ensure a balance of income and education in each of the following four sets. This array is important for the dynamic of playing The Real Game in a classroom/group setting. You may select roles for your students at random from any of the sets below, or you can select roles that would be most appropriate in your region. Each student should have a unique role profile. See also Adapting the Game in the Introduction (Page 18).

Other Data Elements: The following matrix contains important data elements that help us understand the jobs reflected in the Role Profiles including: a breakdown by Education and Training; Saskatchewan Median Annual Wage; Saskatchewan Average Hourly Earnings; Work Prospects; and the Gross Monthly Pay of the role in The Real Game.

(1) Average Hourly Earnings may not correspond directly to Median Annual Wage, due to rounding, updates, and adjustments by labour market analysts. Where an * appears, only average hourly earnings were available. The median annual wage is an estimate based on 48 weeks of 8-hour days at the average hourly earnings.
